

ST. LOUIS SOUTHWESTERN RAILWAY LINES

Issued by
Public Relations Department
ST. LOUIS SOUTHWESTERN RAILWAY LINES
Cotton Belt Building St. Louis 2, Mo.
© 1950
Printed in U. S. A.

"Snob!"

"Would you mind cashing this cashier's cheque promptly, please? My train is leaving this very moment."

"What are you grinning at? I'm the jockey on this iron horse, ain't I?"

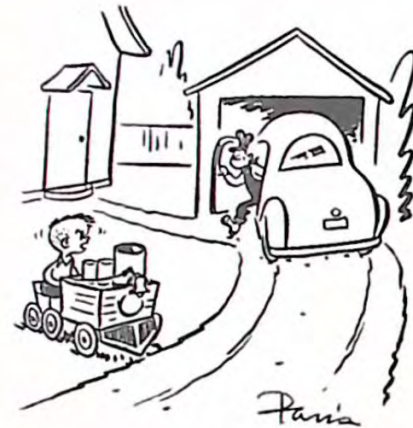

"Aluminum pigs—shall I order a single or double deck stock car?"

"Congratulations! A doubleheader."

"I'll make it if it kills me."

"If I hadn't stopped you would have been run over."

"The drinking water is at the end of the car, sir."

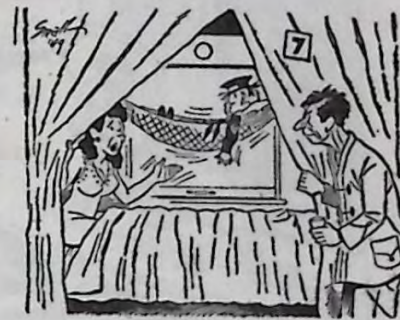

"Better run—Pop is switching today."

"There will be a brief pause for station identification."

"My, this looks delicious! Mind if I try a bite before ordering?"

"I told you not to buy him that sailor suit."

"Eet looks like nombair 5 ees late, Pedro."

Paris

Paris

"Why don't you watch where your going?"

"I'll take the upper tonight, Pauline."

"There still ain't nothing to beat travelin' by rail!"

"From now on, take your shower after we finish the run."

"Can you tell me where to go?"

"He's our roundhouse foreman."

"Here comes the Blue Streak around the bend. Be sure to wave to the engineer."

"No!"

"A deadhead, eh?"